

Complex Electrodes Machined to Your Specifications

Manufacturer of High Quality, Custom Electrodes with Complex Geometries and Tight Tolerances

We deliver continuous and sustainable value for our customers through collaboration and design.

Electrodes are becoming increasingly more complex. Graphel Carbon Product's ability to manufacture complex electrodes can improve your company's bottom line by increasing throughput and productivity.

Complex electrodes produce multiple cuts in one burn, saving labor, material and time while producing superior results. Graphel Carbon Products is known for crafting complex electrodes to our customer's exact specifications while exceeding their quality expectations.

With 50 years of machining experience, Graphel Carbon Products offers expertise in electrode design to accomplish the most difficult goals.
